

SRT | October 2009

Wasteman Holdings, a leading provider of environmental solutions and comprehensive waste management services, has acquired Spill Response Team (Pty) Limited, a supplier of environmental products and specialized hazardous cleaning services serving South Africa. No financial terms were disclosed. Wasteman Holdings is a portfolio company of Marlow Capital.

Wasteman Holding Limited, South Africa's leading environmental solutions and waste management company, announced today that it has acquired Spill Response Team (Pty) Limited, an emergency hazardous cleaning business serving Sub Saharan Africa.

Spill Response Team provides a wide range of specialized cleaning services such as confined space work, asbestos removal, bulk-materials and liquid handling, biological remediation of polluted sites, 24/7 spill response, spill risk assessment, hazardous material training and environmental product supply. All Spill Response Team work is carried out by fully trained and accredited staff ensuring full compliance with local Safety Health and Environmental legislation and internationally recognised safety and environmental standards

Wasteman plans to merge Spill Response Team with its Specialised Cleaning division, which specializes in waste management services for the oil and gas industry. The privately negotiated transaction further expands Wasteman's portfolio of environmental solution services and increases its health and safety accreditations.

"Our number one goal is to support our customers in the responsible management and disposal of waste," said Olivier Meyer, CEO of Wasteman. Since Marlow's investment in Wasteman earlier this year, the company has continued to grow to become South Africa's leading waste management company offering more products and services to thousands of industrial, municipal and commercial customers.

